Glen Fahs Presentation on Resiliency

Professional Development Co-Directors for the Professional Faculty Leadership Association, Susan Atkisson and Jayne Parker hosted the second professional development workshop, on February 17. Our guest speaker was Dr. Glen Fahs, a leadership facilitator for the Cascade Employers Association and lead facilitator for the International Resiliency Center. The subject was on resiliency and how to address everyday situations of ongoing disruptive changes, constant pressures, setbacks and adversities in the workplace environment, as well as in our personal lives. There was a very nice turnout with 80 people registering and a delicious lunch was served. We hope that those who attended found the session educational and enjoyable.

Laura Scott Named February 2015 PFLA “Our Hero”

Laura Scott, office manager for the School of Design and Human Environment with the College of Business, has been recognized as the Professional Faculty Leadership Association’s February 2015 “Our Hero.”

She was presented with a plaque and “Our Hero” mug at a meeting on February 20 by PFLA representatives.

Scott was recognized for her positive attitude, her extraordinary ability to multi-task and her amazing spirit.

“In addition to her positive attitude and outlook on life (which alone enhance the experiences of those who come into contact with her at OSU), she has taken on the project of physically making our campus look better,” her nominator wrote, including spending last summer with a team of students cleaning and updating SDHE offices and classrooms.

“Her creativity and persistence to make the working and classroom spaces better has benefited all within the SDHE department,” her nominator wrote.

“Laura is a behind-the-scenes miracle worker, many of whom do not realize how much she does to keep the office running smoothly. I think this acknowledgement is an amazing way to let her know she is appreciated and helps to honor all that she has done to keep up office morale.”

Call for “Our Hero” Awards Nominations:

Professional Faculty Leadership Association ‘Our Heroes’ sought: Do you know someone who is a hero at OSU? This person makes the extra effort or takes the extra time to make your day pleasant. The PFLA ‘Our Hero’ award is a great way to recognize and celebrate this individual. PFLA is always seeking nominations for ‘Our Hero’ awards. Neither you or your nominee need to be members of PFLA to participate.

Association of Office Professionals — Let's Help

The Association of Office Professionals (AOP) is another professional organization available to employees at Oregon State University. The mission of AOP, although different from the Professional Faculty Leadership Association (PFLA), offers plenty of opportunities and value for interested employees. With an increasing emphasis in university service, AOP offers multiple opportunities for member engagement throughout the year. In addition, they offer an annual student scholarship, a Boss of the Year and Employee of the Year award programs. AOP's monthly meetings are open to everyone and are often mini-professional development programs at noon.

Presently the membership of AOP has dwindled to a handful of dedicated members. AOP needs our support and encouragement. AOP President Leah Quinlivan has been working hard to keep the organization moving forward, but she cannot do this alone. An infusion of new members' energy and ideas will help to drive the future of AOP. With the majority of their activities taking place over the lunch hour, people can participate without impacting the work day.

AOP Events—all are lunch hour events:

April 15: Bowling, MU Bowling Alley, $3 per person, bring your own lunch

May 7: Conversation with President Ed Ray, MU 211, $11 for catered lunch

May 20: AOP Award Luncheon, Valley Library, East & West Willamette Room, cost of catered lunch to be determined

June 17: AOP New Officer Installation Potluck
